Math is not my favorite subject and I don't always enjoy it. Math homework is usually ok. It's been mostly easy and some challenging. The hardest part of math class for me is division because it's hard for me to split things up into different numbers. Also big problems are hard for me, like $368 \div 7 = ?$. Last year the 6th graders did cool stuff like cook and make recipes with half of the ingredients.
